Susan Boyle, Professional Singer: The Tenth Six Months: January 1-June 30, 2014 LucyB Lightner This is Book #10 in an on-going series compiling the day-by-day details gleaned from available public information as Susan Boyle pursues her career as a world-renown professional singer and entertainer. Included are highlights from fan reports, reviews, and media reports enhanced by active links to performances and interviews available on YouTube; numerous tweets; as well as other information that provides a better understanding of Susan's evolving career. This book covers the 10th six months of her incredible journey, January 1–June 30, 2014. Just a brief synopsis of events during this six months:

The "Susan Boyle In Concert" Tour of England and Wales in March and April was the centerpiece of this six months. Earlier in the year, at the end of January at a Press Conference as Honorary Chieftain for the British Pipe Band Championship and Highland Games to be held in Bathgate, West Lothian on May 3, pictures of Susan Boyle "faux-playing" bagpipes spread throughout the media and brought global attention to the event. February was filled with preparation and practice for her up-coming Tour — most going on behind the scenes. Early in March, the movie, The Christmas Candle, was awarded the Crystal Dove Seal for "Best Limited" release; it was Susan's movie debut as Eleanor Hopewell, the church warden's wife; she also debuted "The Miracle Hymn".

"Susan Boyle In Concert" opened in Liverpool, England to a SOLD OUT venue on March 22. At each show, Susan sang 23 songs during the 2-hour show at 19 venues throughout England and Wales. For a few songs she was accompanied by special guest, Lance Ellington; Annie Skates, Zoe Nicholas, and 20+ chorus members from local choirs also provided backing vocals. Musical accompaniment was provided by six string players and a drummer. The Tour throughout England and Wales ran from March 22 to April 17; 16 of 19 venues were SOLD OUT. At all the shows, there were many standing ovations during the concert; afterwards, there were rave reports from show-goers and excellent reviews from the members of the media.

April 1 was Susan's 53rd birthday; the previous day she was guest of honor at a Meet & Greet Birthday Party at Nottingham Hilton attended by more than 60 fans. At De Montfort Hall in Leicester at the end of the show, her Team surprised her with a fancy cake on stage and the audience joined in singing "Happy Birthday". After the final show at Derngate in Northampton, she went back to Blackburn, re-packed, and was off to Crieff Hydro Luxury Hotel in Perthshire for a few days of rest and relaxation. The last week of April she was in the recording studio working on tracks for Album #6.

By May 9, she had finished recording. The third week of May she was on vacation in Portugal and Spain. At the end of the May, an official announcement was made: "Susan Boyle In Concert" would tour across the southern United States — 21 venues, beginning in San Diego, California, October 8 and ending in Jacksonville, Florida, November 6. On May 31 in her Boyle tartan finery, as Chieftain she presided over the Pipe Band Championship and West Highland Games in Bathgate.

In the first two weeks of June, ticket sales opened in the US for "Susan Boyle In Concert" US Tour. Towards the end of the month, she flew to Los Angeles to begin her publicity campaign for the Tour as well as her up-coming Album #6. She was Special Guest on Trinity Broadcasting Network (TBN)'s show "Praise the Lord"; she sang "You Raise Me Up" and had a 20-minute interview with Matt and Laurie Crouch that was aired live; “Somewhere Over The Rainbow” and “I Dreamed A Dream” were aired but were taped prior to the program; and her taped performance of “The Miracle Hymn” from Lakewood Church in Houston in November 2013 was also aired. Susan and her team went to New York City for interviews and more publicity work — Susan sang “You Raise Me Up” on Kelly & Michael Show and her interviews with Dan Kloeffler of ABC and Access Hollywood were televised.
