The Republic of Turkey emerged from the ruins of the Ottoman Empire in 1923. Turkey has had an uneasy historical relationship with the Muslim world, yet over the course of the 20th century it has become an advanced, powerful, secular, and democratic Muslim state. Turkey is a founding member of NATO and the Turks are now seeking full membership in the European Union (EU). If Turkey is successful, it will be the first Muslim EU member state.
From a geopolitical perspective, Turkey is part of Asia, Europe, the Middle East, the Mediterranean, and the Balkans. Turkey is seeking an expanded role between East and West, while at the same time an elected Islamist government is trying to form a stable amalgam of traditional and modern values.
